FROM SOLDIERS

Editor Pocahontas Times:
It occurred to me while marking time today and awaiting the closing of Fort Sheridan S. A. T. C. tomorrow, that a letter from one of these camps may interest those of your readers whose relatives are in the army or navy of the United States.
The three Students Army Training Corps Camps were first opened in June—one at Plattsburg, New York, one here at Fort Sheridan, and another at Frereside, California. During the summer about 60,000 college men have received intensive training at these camps. Now the plan has expanded to include virtually all of the colleges for men in the U. S. Three S. A. T. C. camps are to increase to 400 or 500. In a nutshell, the colleges and universities are becoming cantonments where 150,000 to 200,000 student soldiers are trained. The training is to be so intensified that men prepared for college will be fitted in the shortest time possible for the most active and intelligent military service. As I understand, the plan of our country is to win the war in the quickest time possible—in one year perhaps.

The Fort Sheridan S. A. T. C. is located on the shore of Lake Michigan, about thirty miles north of Chicago, opened for the men now here about the middle of July. The presidents of the colleges were empowered to select one student for every forty or fifty male students in attendance last year and one instructor for every 250 students. I received the appointment from President Dabney of the University of Cincinnati, and came here as a private on August 10th, three weeks late on account of the Cincinnati Summer School. In the party there were about twenty others from the University of Cincinnati, all having had more or less military training. Mine was mostly less, but the five weeks here have been mostly more.

In addition to practice in standard infantry drill regulations, we have had lessons and drills in the latest methods of warfare as developed in the last four years—French platoon movements from French instructors (one of whom recently married a Chicago woman,) bayonet and grenade instruction from two British officers. Most of the instruction, however, has been from American army officers, a few of whom have seen service in France.

As a result of five weeks spent here in training, my admiration for the genius, intelligence and foresight of the men building the American army which is to deal Germany a knockout blow, has risen to a high pitch. The conduct of a war is a great, a tremendous business proposition, and Uncle Sam is treating it as such. There may be occasional mishaps, for no human machine is perfect, but in the main the great machine may be depended on to work smoothly, to win victories. Already it has turned the tide in France, and the infamous German Kaiser is hypocritically telling his people how he has longed and worked for peace, when recent documents from Russia show that he issued orders for war against the nations as early as June 1914, several weeks before a good excuse came for opening hostilities. Let no one forget that the German junkers and war lords deserve and are going to get the soundest thrashing recorded in history. Let us not forget their record of cruelty, inhuman, savage crimes against civilization. The outlaw nation must be brought to justice.

Men in the American army and navy are better cared for than they would be, as a rule, at home. They are scientifically and regularly fed; when sick, they receive the best medical attention immediately; they are trained in correct habits of thought and living; they should become better citizens and better providers. Training in the army is decidedly educational and broadening. I wish to congratulate the men from Pocahontas county who shall enter or have entered the American army or navy. They are performing a great service to their own country and to the world, and when they return, they are going to become sooner or later the leaders of the social, political, and agricultural enterprises in their native country.

About 3500 men (21 full companies) selected from about 300 colleges in the Mississippi Valley are in this camp. Of this number between 1500 and 2000 are to be commissioned tomorrow. The others will be returned to their home schools thruout the Mississippi Valley to become instructors of military science at once, and most of them to enter an officers' training camp within a few months. A few of the most competent fellows to be commissioned are between 18 and 21 years of age, having attended good military schools.

To change suddenly, let no one in Pocahontas think he can do nothing to help win the war, for everyone can work, save, buy liberty bonds, and encourage those who go to the front. The war will be won by the entire nation working and fighting as single unit. Very hurriedly,
A. L. Harold,
Co. 18, S. A. T. C.
Fort Sheridan, Illinois.

P. S. About 1650 received commissions. Three hundred including this writer are now attending a week's intensive training in the duties of personnel adjutants in the infantry. We work about fifteen hours a day under instruction and guidance of three specialists.

Letter from Private William H. Cackley, Co. C, Motor Trans. Corp. and Repair Unit, Camp Holibird, Baltimore, Md.
Dearest Mama and Dad:
I suppose you think I have been sent overseas, but I am not much farther from home than I was while at Richmond. We are about two miles outside of Baltimore, Md., at camp Holibird. I don't know how many soldiers are here, but there must be 30,000 or 40,000.

We left Richmond at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and got here about 5 p. m. Certainly had a fine trip through Virginia and Maryland. We passed through Fredricksburg, Va., Washington, D. C., and Baltimore.

The boys from home are scattered all over the U. S. Claude, Winfred, Fred Moore and Loudermilk went to Gettysburg, Pa. Kramer, Siple, Swanson and Townsend came here. Edwin Bruffey was sent to Florida. The mechanics all came here and the truck drivers went to Gettysburg.

We were issued two blankets, a mess kit and a cot last night. I don't know what we will do or how long we are going to be here. This is quite a different camp from the one we have been used to. We sleep in tents, eight men to each tent.

How are you and papa getting along these days? I had a letter from Mary Frances or rather from Mayme this week and two from Agnes.
How is Mrs. Buckman and Everett Hefner? Hope both are better.

Well mama, I won't write any more this time, but will write to you real soon and tell you more about this camp. With lots of love,
Your only son,
Bill.

ARBOVALE

Cutting corn is the order of the day but it is rather rainy to make good progress. Most of the farmers are done cutting buckwheat, which is a good crop. The potato crop is very good, but there is some complaint of potatoes rotting.

The North Fork trains are running again after a few days shut down. Clarence Flynn started to Grafton last Friday where he will teach school this winter.

Orrin Gillispie came in Tuesday from Pittsburgh and spent the week with home folks.

The Pine Grove Sunday School gave an ice cream social one night last week which was enjoyed by the scholars.

Rev. H. Blackhurst preached his last sermon for the conference year at Arbovale last Sunday morning.

James Gillispie received word that Floy Gillispie had arrived safely in France some time ago.

J. O. Varner has moved to his farm in Virginia. We are sorry to lose our good neighbors.

BOYER

Jay Goodmell, of Garland, Pa., has accepted the position of store manager at Boyer, and has moved his family here.

G. O. Mamilton is a patient at the Davis Memorial Hospital at Elkins, recovering from typhoid fever.

Thomas Kitzmiller of Akron, Ohio, is here visiting his mother.

Chas. Meyers has purchased the farm belonging to Adam Calhoun and has moved his family there from North Fork.

Mrs. Boyd Phares and daughter May are visiting relatives in Virginia. Gay Ryder is home from Senningsten, visiting his friends.

DO YOU WANT AN EDUCATION THAT WILL PREPARE YOU FOR HOLDING A POSITION? If so, write THE DUNSMORE BUSINESS COLLEGE, INC., STAUNTON, VA., for catalogue and testimonials concerning this IMPORTANT QUESTION.

The demand for clerks of all kinds exceeds the supply. There are FIVE large banks in its HOME city. The presidents of two, the cashiers of two others, and the majority of the bookkeepers of ALL of them, are DUNSMORE men. You can have proof of this statement for the asking.

Remember there is a great difference in schools. Some, on account of age, experience, and influence can do more for you than others with less experience, age, and influence. Be CAREFUL in making a choice.

Wheat Wanted

We believe each community should mill its own wheat and in keeping with that principal we have made arrangements to handle what wheat there will be tooffer in this section this season. We are licensed and are working in strict conformity to the Government's regulations and believe it our duty to try to make our community self sustaining at this critical time.

We are paying the very highest prices possible under the government regulations and hope none of our patrons will allow their wheat to go to other counties thereby giving them credit for that which we should have.

Yours for making Pocahontas a patriotic self-sustaining county.
